Handwritten signatures and initials in blue ink, including names like "Mr. Jones" and "Mr. Smith".

- (a) Trustees are to treat members of the public and their colleagues fairly and consistently, in a non-discriminatory manner with proper regard for their rights and obligations. In this regard, they should perform their roles in a professional and responsible manner.
- (b) They must also ensure that their decisions and actions are reasonable, fair and appropriate to the circumstances, based on a consideration of all the relevant facts, and supported by adequate documentation.

26. Integrity and iwi interest:

- (a) Trustees are to promote confidence in the integrity of the Trust and always act in the interests of the Trust and not in their private interest.
- (b) Trustees must protect the reputation of the Trust. They must not engage in activities in or outside of their role in the Trust which could bring the Trust into disrepute.

Responsive service

- 27. Trustees are to provide a relevant and responsive service to their stakeholders, providing all necessary and appropriate direction to the Trust to fulfil the Trust's strategic objectives.
- 28. They must provide information promptly and in an appropriate format that is easy for the recipient to understand, and make sure that the information is clear, accurate, current and complete.

Economy and efficiency

- 29. Trustees must keep up to date with advances and changes in their area of knowledge or expertise and look for ways to improve performance and achieve high standards of service by both the Trustees and the Trust. They must use their authority and available resources and information only for the purpose intended.

Guide to ethical decision making

- 30. To assist in fostering a climate of ethical awareness, conduct and decision-making of the Trustees, Trustees must consider, either by themselves or in consultation with others such as their peers or the Chairperson, the following five points:
 - (a) Is the decision or conduct lawful?

 - (c) What will be the outcomes be for the Trustees; colleagues; the Trust; and other parties?
 - (d) Do these outcomes raise a conflict of interest or lead to private gain at Trust expense?

Handwritten signatures and initials in blue ink, including a large signature that appears to be 'M. Jones' and other initials like 'W. J.', 'J. S.', and 'M. J.'.

Conflicts of interest

31. Conflicts of interest exist when it is likely that a Trustee could be influenced, or could be perceived to be influenced, by a personal interest in carrying out their duty. Conflicts of interest that lead to biased decision making may constitute "something which may jeopardise the credibility of the rest of the Trustees" and therefore be grounds for the termination of the individual Trustee in accordance with the termination policy of this Deed.
32. Without prejudice to anything in clause 4.12 to clause 4.15 of this Deed:
- (a) Some related interests that may give rise to a conflict of interest include but are not limited to:
 - (i) financial interests in a matter the Trust deals with or having friends or relatives with such an interest that the Trustee is aware of but has not declared;
 - (ii) personal beliefs or attitudes that influence the impartiality of advice given;
 - (iii) personal relationships with the people the Trust is dealing with or investigating that go beyond the level of a professional working relationship and which has not been declared;
 - (iv) employment that comprise the integrity of the Trustee and the Trust; and
 - (v) engaging in activities or making adverse comments that relate to the Trust's work;
 - (b) An individual Trustee may often be the only person aware of the potential for conflict. It is therefore his or her responsibility to avoid any financial or other interest that could compromise the impartial performance of his or her role, and disclose any potential or actual conflicts of interest to the Chairperson.
 - (c) If a Trustee is uncertain whether a conflict exists or may exist, he or she should declare that interest or potential interest to the other Trustees in accordance with clauses 4.12 to 4.15 of this Deed.

Acceptance of gifts or benefits

33. Without prejudice to anything in clause 4.16 to clause 4.18 of this Deed:
- (a) Trustees must not accept a gift or benefit that is intended to, or likely to, cause them to act in a biased manner in the course of their duties;
 - (b) the Chairperson may approve the acceptance of token gifts or benefits under certain circumstances provided that there is no possibility that the recipient might be, or might appear to be, compromised in the process;
 - (c) it is acknowledged that the receiving of gifts is particularly important in a tikanga Maori context where the refusal of a gift could cause significant offence to the party giving, this needs to be sensitively managed; and
 - (d) Trustees will immediately advise the Chairperson if they believe they have been offered a bribe or if they have been offered or received a favour or benefit.

Handwritten signatures in blue ink, including names like 'Mrs. Jones' and 'Mr. Smith', and a large stylized signature.

Trustees dealing with or having access to sensitive investigations or commercially sensitive information should be particularly alert to inappropriate attempts to influence them.

Discrimination and harassment

34. Trustees must not harass or discriminate against their colleagues, employees, or members of the public on the grounds of:
- (a) Sex, which includes pregnancy and childbirth.
 - (b) Marital status.
 - (c) Religious belief.
 - (d) Ethical belief.
 - (e) Colour.
 - (f) Race.
 - (g) Ethnic or national origins.
 - (h) Disability.
 - (i) Age.
 - (j) Political opinion.
 - (k) Employment status.
 - (l) Family status.
 - (m) Sexual orientation.
35. The Chairperson will make sure that the Trustees operate in a manner free from all forms of harassment and discrimination.

Fairness and equity

36. Matters being considered by Trustees must be dealt with consistently, promptly and fairly. This involves dealing with matters in accordance with approved procedures, in a non-discriminatory manner, and in conformity with the principles of natural justice, and the values of the Trustees.
37. When using any discretionary powers, Trustees must ensure that they take all relevant facts into consideration, have regard to the particular merits of each case, and not take irrelevant matters or circumstances into consideration.

Public comment on the work of the Trust

38. Public comment by Trustees includes public speaking engagements, comments on radio and television or in letters to newspapers, and expressing views in books, journals or notices if it is expected that the comments will spread to the community at large.
39. Trustees, as individual members of the iwi, have the right to make public comment and enter into public debate on political and social issues. However, there are some circumstances in which this is inappropriate. For example, situations when the public comment, although made in a private capacity, may appear to be an official comment on behalf of the Trust. In such circumstances, Trustees must preface their remarks with a comment that they are made in a private or and do not represent the official view of the Trust.

40. Trustees should follow the procedures established by the Trust for making public comment on the work of the Trust. As a general rule, they can disclose official information that is normally given to members of the public seeking that information, but should only disclose other official information or documents when:
- (a) in the course of their duties;
 - (b) when proper authority has been given;
 - (c) required to, or authorised, do so by law; or
 - (d) when called to give evidence in court.
41. In these cases, comments made by Trustees should be confined to factual information and should not, as far as possible, express an opinion on Trust policy or practice unless required to do so by the circumstances of the particular situation (for example, when asked to do so in court).

Post engagement

42. Trustees must not use their position to obtain opportunities for future employment. They should not allow themselves or their role to be influenced by plans for, or offers of, employment. If they do, there is a conflict of interest and the integrity of the Trustee and the Trust is at risk.
43. Former Trustees must not use, or take advantage of, confidential information that may lead to gain or profit obtained in the course of their official duties until it has become publicly available.
44. All Trustees must be careful in their dealings with former Trustees of the Trust and make sure that they do not give them, or appear to give them, favourable treatment or access to privileged information.

Interpretation

45. In the event of any inconsistency between the provisions of this Trustee Code of Conduct and the provisions of the Deed, the provisions of the Deed shall prevail.
